Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Personal Support Worker position at your facility. I am going to graduate from the Personal Support Worker program at Centennial College, having obtained a very strong foundation through hands-on lab training and in-depth theory classes. I am excited about bringing my compassion, reliability, and a client-centered approach to your team.

I practiced essential PSW skills during my training, including personal care, safe lifting and transfers, assisting with mobility, monitoring vital signs, infection control, and proper documentation. Such experiences instill confidence in me and help me understand how every aspect of care given to a client should be performed with dignity, independence, preference, privacy, and safety.

I am especially dedicated to providing respectful, empathetic, and patient support to my clients. I work effectively in team environments, easily adapt to new routines, client needs, and workplace expectations. I am excited to start my career and make a positive impact on the quality of care at your facility.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my training and passion for care align with the needs of your team. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Shyam Nath Pandey
